Customer Reviews

"In short, this book is everything you always wanted to know about . . . well, everything, and then some. The text is written with a lively vocabulary that pushes teens and tweens to expand their minds and challenge their reading levels. This is definitely one for the science, reading, art, or language classroom." —œ New York Journal of Books.

CRISPIN BOYER is a veteran NG Kids writer, with 10 books and dozens of Kids' Magazine articles to his name. His ability to combine wit with impeccable research and apply it to high kid interest topics makes him a hot commodity in the children's books market. He lives in Mexico.

My kiddo is a reader. I mean a legit bookworm. I played baseball, she wants to do dumb things like "learn new things" and "figure stuff out." I worked on cars, she wants to "find the meaning to life." Looks like we're not adding trophies to THIS house. Anyway, unless you want your 8 year old to be some nerdy, super smart kid, and be curious, and into science, and stimulate the ability to look deeper into things and become generally well-rounded and probably smarter than most average adults and the envy of all her friends and who will be continually supported by her proud parents for her thirst of knowledge, then don't buy this book.

Another wonderful book from National Geographic! They write the most amazing series for children. This book gives children the answer to so many common questions and puts it in a way for them to understand.

Excellent book to help answer all of those wonderful why questions that your four year old doesn't stop asking also lots of great facts for years as they grow.

Excellent "encyclopedia" for young children. They love combing over the book and learning new things! And I love having them read me the questions and learning new things too.

My granddaughter loved this as a Christmas present. Seven years old. Caught her reading it during Christmas Day!

My grandchildren love this book. Very interesting for kids and adults

My daughter enjoys reading this book so much. There's a lot to learn and be amazed about.

My 11 year old daughter loves this book and I don't have to answer as many random questions anymore. LOL. She liked it so much we bought it for her best friend too.
