Barbara Scott-Goodman is the author of The Ski Country Cookbook among others. She lives in New York City. Kate Mathis is a commercial photographer based in New York.

I know some people were irritated that the author didn't name specific brands of wines to pair with the meals, but rather just said "A Riesling, a Pinot Noir," etc., but I appreciated the generality of that. The recipes are great, too.

Book came with the corner slightly ripped, and it's a gift so not pleased with that. What's in the book looks good though.

Many good recipes. All have wine recommendations - not specific years and labels, just a general grape. Recipes are easy to follow and photos for most.

I bought this as a Christmas present for a friend who has a great knowledge of wine. He gave it a major thumbs up. My guess is that if you already know what you are talking about when it comes to wine, you will get more out of this little book, than if you are a novice and looking for actually recommendations of pairings.

Great book with lots of wonderful ideas. If you do appetizers a lot like I do it's a great book

So many good choices. Pictures are beautiful as well. Recipes are concise and a pleasure to make. Not only is this book a keeper but it also makes an awesome gift. I've bought 3 already.

Wine lovers will enjoy this
