Recorder Ensemble: First Collection, Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass

Synopsis

This collection provides interesting and rich selections for four-part recorder pieces that are tried and true for classrooms, having been tested in Waldorf classrooms by Steve Bernstein. This collection mixes classical pieces with original compositions of Mr. Bernstein, and traditional folk songs arranged for beautiful music middle school and high school recorder players can master. All the parts work well with the recorders for which they are arranged! Organized in a handy booklet that will lie flat on a music stand but will also keep pieces together. A little gem of a book is this! Inexpensive enough to order for a whole class. Try it. You will like it!

Customer Reviews

Steve is one of those rare teachers who knows music inside and out, appreciates what music does for young people and for the world, and develops his approach and repertoire always towards these goals. He has taught for many years in a New York Waldorf school and inspires students to proficiency, respect, and harmony with recorders, voices and folk instruments. He is much loved by children and much appreciated by those grownups who experience the results of his good teaching. You can hear his arrangements on his web site.
