Great book

My kids (ages 4 and 5) love this book! The price was great, and they love looking through the book at all of the different sets that have come out over the years. The book includes the most recent sets as well, so the kids can find pictures of their sets in the book. The pictures and details are wonderful and very thorough - just what you'd expect from a Lego product. The Harry Potter minifigure is a great bonus. We are very happy with this purchase.

Love the book, so informative. Sometimes I buy mixed lots online and its very helpful to identifying certain parts and sets in which the parts come from as well as the minifigures. Being a Harry Potter Fan I love it.

My grandson wanted this book and I looked for it at Target. Unfortunately thieves stole the character from the front of the book - in all the books. I found it on and knew that I would receive the book with the character intact - and did not disappoint. Can't wait to give this wonderful book to my grandson. I looked at it and it had so much wonderful information with lots of pictures. Just right for my grandson.

Great book - my son loves it and all things Harry Potter. Now if Lego could just make some new sets for the next generation of kids loving and obsessed with Harry Potter. My son actually wrote a letter on his own accord begging the company to make more.

then, this book is the next best thing. Your child won't be able to play with the sets, but atleast they could look at the pictures (fully built) whenever they like. No lego clutter around the house :)

Book was okay but probably should have spent the money on actual leggos. The book was looked at a few times but failed to hold much interest. The leggo figure that came with it on the other hand was well played with.

With both Harry Potter AND Lego how can you go wrong. Relive the magic of Harry Potter by building Hogwarts, Hogsmeade, Diagon Alley and the likes. These sets are not in stores anymore, so get this guide to make sure the set you are buying is complete. A great guide to buying and building in the Wizarding World of Harry Potter!
